I think I told you how we spent our Christmas in 1896. This Christmas was spent much the same. Our church, al-though the largest in the city, would not hold all who came. I never saw the church so packed before, there was scarcely standing room. The order was quite good considering the great number of outsiders who were there. They seemed to especially enjoy the music and singing. Miss Galloway deserves great credit in the way she has trained the boys and girls to sing. One of the school boys now plays the hymns for us in our A package of native candy and orange with a bright picture card was given to each member of the Sunday school. Two hundred and fifty pack

Of course, this seems somewhat strange to us that a picture card can give these people so much pleasure, but when we go into their dark and cheer-less homes and see nothing bright or pretty, we cease to wonder and wish it were in our power to be able to do more to make their homes more cheerful. In the homes of some of our Chris tians we find mounted a leaf from Berean Chester, some foreigner has given them, and it is needless to say they prize these very highly. These illustrations with their China text, are always ready to preach a sermon. It is very interest ing to go through the leaves of one of se "Chesters" and hear the school listen most attentively to keep up with —Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Chambers attended the funeral of Mrs. Chambers mother, Mrs. Messick, in Fillmore, Wednesday, March 16th. Mrs. Messick had many warm friends in Maitland who regret hearing of her death; she had been n very poor health for some years. Rev. C. E. Wood, pastor of the M. E. church for the past year, has been returned to this charge for the present rear. Rev. Wood and family were invited on their return home from conference iast Tuesday evening to take supper with Mr. and Mrs. John Fessender, who live oposite the M. E. parsonage, while partaking of their supper the parsonage warmed and lighted and a large was warmed and lighted and a large as warmed and lighted and a large was large was
